Panellist Profiles

Agnieszka Moody

Agnieszka Moody is Head of International Relations at the BFI with over 20 years' experience in film, television, and cultural policy. Her role focuses on building strategic global partnerships to strengthen the UK screen sector's international reach. A graduate of the renowned Łódź Film School, she previously led the UK's participation in Creative Europe, advising screen professionals across production, distribution, exhibition, festivals, and film education. Having worked in Poland, France, and the UK, she brings a uniquely international perspective and is widely recognised for her expertise in fostering cross-border collaboration in the screen industries.

Amit Kaur

Amit Kaur is a filmmaker working across narrative and documentary forms, with a focus on cross-cultural storytelling. Her BFI-funded short Cuppa Chai screened at Oberhausen and Cleveland Film Festivals and won at World of Film International, Glasgow. Her debut feature Crown, exploring young immigrant experiences, was selected for development with the FILMONOMICS Programme. As a Board Member of the UK Asian Film Festival, Amit fosters collaborations between the UK and South Asia. Driven by the philosophy of creating your own table, she champions inclusive creative platforms.

Aneeka Verma

Aneeka Verma has worked in Film Publicity for over 15 years. She currently leads the Netflix Film Publicity team based in London for the UK & EMEA. Over the years, Aneeka has worked closely with a range of filmmakers to bring their work to audiences across film festivals as well as theatrical and streaming releases globally. She has a personal passion for diversifying the industry and connecting audiences to art.

Anupma Shanker

Anupma Shanker is a British-Indian film curator and archives researcher with a deep and evolving interest in marginalised and minority screen narratives from, of and about the past. Her curatorial practice is focused on bringing to light films and filmmakers that remain overlooked, inaccessible and undiscovered but can offer valuable insight, wisdom and guidance in contextualizing the difficult but urgent discourses about the myths and realities of shared/contested histories, heritage, identities and memories.
